O. L. Kimbrough Buys Interest of Hanly Ragan in the Ragan-Gay Motor Company

Hanly Ragan, senior member of the firm composing the Ragan-Gay Motor Company, has sold his interest in the business to O. L. Kimbrough, a brother-in-law of Mr. Ragan, who has been bookkeeper for the firm for the past several months. Mr. Kimbrough is a native of Nicholas county and while he has only lived in this city a short time, has made many warm friends. He is a splendid young business man and his efforts are certain to add to the future success of this growing concern, which, we are informed, contemplates making a large addition to its present building in the near future. The firm name will not be changed and the business will be conducted on the same high plane in the future as in the past.

Mr. Dunavent is survived by one brother, James, and four sons, Claude, Earley, Shirley and Harvey. He was a good citizen and has raised four fine sons. LOCAL STORES REMAIN OPEN

In Absence of Official Order to Close At Certain Hours to Conserve Fuel

The reported order of the Fuel Administration sent out through the Associated Press, calling on stores and offices not to open until 9 in the morning and to close at 4 in the afternoon has not been accepted as official in this city and local authorities are awaiting confirmation of the report before attempting to enforce same. The order was supposed to go into effect December 1st, and the opening and closing hours are being observed in many of the larger cities of the country. It is quite likely that official notice will be received here within a few hours and same will be promptly complied with upon its receipt. The coal situation is very acute and drastic steps were deemed necessary to conserve the coal supply all over the country owing to the coal miners' strike. In the event the conservation methods are put into effect in this city the local merchants will make the best of same and do everything in their power to assist the government in breaking the strike.

LOCAL MARKET OPENS TOMORROW

Much Tobacco Already Arrived and a Great Deal of Interest Being Manifested

The warehouses here have completed the organization of their forces and are ready for business. The opening sale will be held at the Robertson Warehouse Wednesday morning, beginning at nine o'clock. The Whitehall and the Farmers will also have sales on the opening day, and over 150,000 pounds of the weed is already on the floors. The warehouses here are owned and managed by experienced tobacco men and every grower who brings his crops to the Mt. Sterling market is assured of a good price and a fair deal.

Buyers from all the big factories and a number of independent buyers have arrived in the city, and the opening sales promise to be large and tobacco is sure to bring high prices.

The warehouses here are a great asset to our city and every effort should be made by our people to encourage our markets, which are second to none in the state.

ADS OF FARMERS

The department of journalism at South Dakota College wrote nearly one hundred farmers asking their experience with advertising.

One replied that advertising of seed grain had been so successful that next year a new granary was built, a new truck bought and equipment for cleaning and handling grain added.

Another replied that his success in selling little pigs had been so great through local papers that he had been unable to meet the demand.

A third replied that a small ad in the county seat paper sold all his settings of eggs.—Free Press, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

UNVEILING CEREMONIES ARE POSTPONED

The ceremonies which were to have taken place Thursday morning when the monument erected to the memory of Montgomery county's dead heroes was to have been unveiled, had to be postponed on account of inclement weather. MISS SUSETTE JOHNSON APPOINTED CHAIRMAN

Miss Susette Johnson has been appointed chairman in the Mt. Sterling parish to aid the campaign to raise $302,172 in three years in the Lexington Diocese of the Episcopal church. The canvass here is a part of the nation-wide campaign to further the interests of the church. Miss Johnson will be glad to explain to any interested the work that will be done, how the money is to be pledged, and give any further information concerning the work. It is believed that Mt. Sterling will be prompt in pledging its share in this great movement. The amount asked in each parish is comparatively small. The local quota will be announced in a few days.

In 1919 the Lexington Diocese has received from the Board of Missions $6,000 and contributed to the board just $2,911.50. See what a difference there is in what has been given and what has been received? In 1920 the Lexington Diocese expects to receive from the Missions Board $95,618.64, and it is asked to contribute only $18,935. Plain figures show the Lexington Diocese receives more than it gives.

The funds raised in this campaign will go toward increasing the general work of the church all over the Diocese, for development of Margaret College for Girls at Versailles, and St. John's Institute and Wentworth Farm at Corbin. It is hoped to place three new diocesan missionaries in the field and to build a community home for the negro congregation of St. Andrew's church, Lexington.

The work of the church is spreading and its influence is daily growing in power, but it must have help, just as any other movement must. The record of the Episcopalian Institutions in this Diocese have a record to be proud of anywhere, and the scope of its activity is unlimited.

The one just closed was indeed an extraordinary session of Congress. It was extraordinary both in point of its opportunities and its failures.

You Can't Run a Train Without Tracks

Everybody knows you can't run a train without tracks; and everybody ought to know you can't run a telephone company without money.

Sometimes people seem to forget this fact concerning the telephone. The business man knows he must have money to run his business. The housewife knows she must have money to run the home. They both know that it costs more to run anything these days, than it did two or three years ago.

It is just the same with those of us who go to make up the telephone company; we linemen, operators, electricians and engineers; the cost of living has hit us just as hard as it has hit you. And the cost of the materials with which we work has just about doubled.

These are plain, everyday facts. Without enough money to pay expenses it is just as impossible for us to run the telephone company as it is impossible to run a train without tracks.

We must have your support if you are to have the telephone. Rates must meet expenses.

HERE'S where the particular smoker meets the particular smoke—Chesterfield.

Particular is right! Not only do we use the four choicest varieties of Turkish tobacco—Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun—but to these we add the rich, sun-ripened leaves of specially choice Domestic tobacco.

Fine as these tobaccos are, it's the exclusive process by which they are blended that gives to Chesterfields that satisfying body, that mellow richness which makes a smoke mean something.

Chesterfields certainly do satisfy as no other cigarette has satisfied you before—and to top it off, they are packed in a glass-line paper package that preserves for you all of that delicious flavor.

RECORD IS BEING BROKEN

November gives promise of being the banner month for the savings division of the Treasury Department for the Eighth Federal Reserve District.

Sales of Treasury Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps are certain to exceed that of any other month since the organization was effected, and the work of organizing savings societies in the schools has exceeded all expectations. The interest taken by the pupils shows the hold the Treasury Department's thrift campaign has on the young folks.

Lloyd W. King, one of the field organizers, accomplished a bit of wonderful work at Springfield last week when he organized 140 societies with approximately 6,000 members in 45 minutes. This was done with the active aid of W. W. Thomas, superintendent of the Greene county schools. The teachers and principals were assembled and instructed and at 10 o'clock each teacher began the organization in his room, and in 45 minutes the work was accomplished.

As a specimen of the work done in the St. Louis schools may be cited the report made by J. R. Benson, principal of the Elliott school. During the first ten weeks of school the sales aggregated $349.93, and last week the sales were so large that they went considerably over $500.

The postmasters of all classes throughout Arkansas, Missouri and Kentucky are conducting a vigorous campaign in the sales of Treasury Savings Certificates in addition to their regular work of selling Savings Stamps. The Treasury Department has offered a Distinguished Service pin to each postmaster who sells his quota of certificates and scores of the postmasters in all of the states are reporting they have already exceeded their quotas.

The sales of the certificates to banks by the field workers are also far in excess of any other month at the corresponding period, and there is scant room for doubt that the sales will exceed $1,000,000 for the month.

The G. O. P. has been trying very hard to make an issue—and has succeeded. Its own incompetency in Congress has furnished it.

By passing the railroad bill in the House of Representatives the Republican leaders in Congress hope to avoid a collision with the shippers and employees, but they have only switched the question into the Senate.

SAFETY FILMS

Teaching "safety first" to children by means of motion picture films strikes one as a pretty sure way to get the message across. Children are the most ardent patrons of the movie. They have an uncanny way of recognizing the hero and the villain for exactly what they are early in the picture, and their sympathies are always wholeheartedly and unrestrainedly on the side of right and courage. Anyone who has not realized that fact before may be convinced next time he goes to a movie simply by listening to the sounds that come from the youngsters in the first half-dozen rows of seats.

If the villain happens to be a careless automobile driver and the hero that friend of little children, the corner policeman, the lesson is just as sure to sink home and to be remembered.

New York State is commencing a safety-for-children campaign which is to be carried out by means of educational films. The Secretary of State reports that automobiles in that one state have been responsible for 1,200 deaths in the past year, and that an amazing number of the killed were school children.

The present plan is to open almost every motion picture theater in the state on Saturday mornings for special educational safety-first films. The pictures will be especially designed to teach lessons for self-preservation and will illustrate some of the dangers from automobile traffic. Pictures leave an impression far more lasting than truths told by words only. Making the well-loved movie a safety campaigner with the children is a project which could be carried out in any interested community.

PHRASE THAT BROKE THE ICE

Timid Girl Lost Shyness When She Found Man of War Knew About "Cat Stitches."

He was a soldier-sailor of breadth and brawn. She was delicate, tiny, slender and shy. He handled guns, and knives and things with which to kill. She plucked all day with needle and thread. Surely, between the two, although introduced by mutual friends, there was nothing in common.

More to their mutual friends than to herself, he talked of arms and ships, of ocean storms and battles on land and sea. She said nothing, but quietly looked at his chevroned uniform. His eyes followed the gaze of hers.

"Yes, I sewed those stripes on myself," he said, as though as proud of that as of the battles he had fought. "They're sewed with what are called 'cat stitches,'" he added.

The sewing lady forgot her shyness.

"Why, he knows what 'cat stitching' is!" she cried with the air of one suddenly put at ease.

So the sailor-soldier now directed his conversation more to the sewing lady than to their mutual friends. For, by the "cat stitches" had the ice been broken.

VENTRILOQUISM.

A ventriloquist is a person who is able to produce sounds that seem to come from a distance, or from another person. He makes very little motion of the lips or none at all and it is sometimes said that he learns his art from the birds.

Many birds form their sounds without opening their bills. The pigeon is a well-known instance of this. Its cooing can be distinctly heard, although it does not open its bill. The call is formed internally in the throat and chest, and is only rendered audible by resonance. Similar ways may be observed in many birds and other animals. The clear, loud call of the cuckoo is said to be the resonance of a note formed in the bird. The whirring of the snipe, which betrays the approach of the bird to the hunter, is an act of ventriloquism. Even the nightingale has certain notes which are produced internally, and which are audible while the bill is closed.

CORDIALITY IS LACKING.

"You say here that the distinguished visitor received a 'royal' reception," remarked the city editor. "What's wrong with that?" asked the youthful reporter. "The whole town turned out to welcome him." "That's just the point. Nowadays most royal receptions consist principally of jeers, hoots and hisses."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

ANNIE SMITH, 1119 N. 12th St.
Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. PRESIDENT BACKS

RED CROSS SEALS

With the cordial indorsement of President Woodrow Wilson the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals opened Monday, though some have already been sold in Washington, where the Prince of Wales himself purchased some of them before his departure for New York to sail for England. The President, in a letter to Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, wished the movement to sell 650,000,000 of the Red Cross Christmas Seals the "very best success" and the British Prince gave the movement his praise.

The money realized from the sale is to be devoted directly and immediately to the war on tuberculosis in Kentucky. There are hundreds of men and women in the State who have not been able to use as many of the Seals as their interest in the movement caused them to buy. So this year a Health Bond, in denominations of $5 to $100, has been issued for their benefit.

Kentucky has been given 13,000,000 of these little Red Cross Christmas Seals to sell. The State's quota of the six and a half million dollars to be raised in the nation-wide sale and nation-wide war on the white plague has been fixed at about $130,000, and if it is realized an intensive fight on tuberculosis for 1920 will be made, according to Dr. J. S. Lock, executive secretary of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association.

In an address at Louisville Dr. Lock gave some thought-provoking statistics in regard to the ravages of the white plague in Kentucky, saying that last year more than 4,600 persons had died of this disease, and that nearly thirty thousand others were suffering from it. With proper care and treatment, he said, many of these victims could be cured, and at least, with sensible precautions could be taught by a visiting nurse, the development of other cases from these also could be prevented.

Reports from various counties of the state indicate that the quota will be raised, but that those interested in public health work has always responded liberally in the Red Cross Christmas Seals campaigns in previous years.

DISTURBING ORGANIZATIONS

We are free to say the strikes entered into by the laboring people are of no benefit to anyone. The miners of our mines are in a most desperate condition. Word comes to us, which cannot be doubted, saying the families of these laborers are in the most deplorable circumstances; they are half fed, half clothed and unless they are permitted to go to work will soon be without shelter and will be exposed to the severity of winter. For this condition there is a responsibility. It is not chargeable to the heads of these suffering families either, but it is the leaders of the labor organizations. From these breaks between labor and capital we cannot see anything helpful coming to either. It was a wise man who said arbitration should precede strikes and the law should be so stringent that it would not allow business disturbances of any degree. We do not believe any firm or corporation should even permit the asking of the increase of wages. The employer should make it a part of his business duty to consider the earnings of every laborer and to advance his pay in accordance with his increasing value before the laboring man could even expect it. No company should want any part of a laborer's earnings for nothing. A course like this would be a bar to labor and capital disturbances and would engender the very best feelings between all concerned.

GERMANS PLEASED

Reports come from across the seas through German publications that give hearty approval of the course of the Republican Senate and Congress of this country. This, a fact, it follows that the U. S. Congress in her refusal to ratify the peace treaty and League of Nations as agreed by representatives of the victors in the world war contentions for democracy are strictly German. Again this course further establishes the fact that though the Allies were victorious on the battle field, that without the approval of the peace terms and a ratification of the League of Nations Germans are free from commitment, that the records will show a continuation of an armistice, free from agreements for the future. The hardships endured by our soldiers, the deaths, the heartaches, the sacrifices made by the entire people in a large measure, stands for nothing, and for this a partisan party at Washington is responsible, and it is the conquered Germans who are pleased. We do not believe this course is pleasing to the people, nor do we believe they will stand for it.

GET BUSY

Mt. Sterling people should pull the scales from their eyes, bring into use every inch of pluck they may possess and accomplish something. Why not get up a cold storage plant that slaughtering may be done at home and meats be distributed from here. We have the stock, we have idle capital, banks are full of money, and now is the very time to bring things to pass for Mt. Sterling. Why not get busy! We have a Men's Business Club, which should be resurrected and put to work.

With tobacco here in its crude state a tobacco factory or a cigar plant could be established now. All of these plants in these days of prosperity are money makers. No capital should be inoperative now. Get busy.

LEST WE FORGET

We want to say here and now another word about our circulation. Our home list, covers almost every inch of Montgomery county, and that part of other counties adjacent to Montgomery county. We want the people to know that our list is much larger than any other paper circulated in the same territory; and here we add with these conditions results must be better with us and it matters not whether advertising done in the Advocate be court advertising or firm advertising the results are better. We make these statements that the people who advertise may know, and what they should expect and demand.

THE BANKS ARE AWAKENED

The sale of Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps has done more to arouse interest in advertising among financial institutions than any other factor in years, according to W. R. Morehouse, of the Guarantee Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles.

"The old mistaken notion that it is undignified for banks to advertise has been swept aside," said Morehouse in a recent address. It advanced financial advertising fully ten years. Many banks which looked with indifference on advertising prior to the war used it extensively in the sale of war bonds and War Savings Stamps. Posters and banners, which, under no ordinary circumstances would have been allowed to adorn the walls of these banks, were used in superabundance.

"By using these mediums to sell war securities hundreds of banks have been soundly converted to the value of advertising. This has made it easy for our bankers to reach the conclusion that it is not only dignified for them to advertise, but that it can be made very profitable as well."

The best banks in Missouri, Arkansas and Kentucky now have display advertisements in the newspapers nearly every week.

Why Mr. Joe Armstrong, Celebrated Dog Trainer, Uses Rat-Snap

"Noticed rats around my kennels, having hundreds of prize dogs could not take chances. Tried RAT-SNAP; in three weeks every rat disappeared. Notices that the dogs never went near RAT-SNAP. I tell my friends about RAT-SNAP." Use this sure rodent killer; it's safe. Comes in cake form. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Chenault & Orear.

NOW COMES THE FLYABOUT

Airplanes Seem to Bid Fair to Take the Place Now Held by the Chummy Roadster.

There was a time, and not so terribly many years ago, when the young man who invested his hard-earned cash in what was known as a best-girl buggy got some mention in the home paper. His purchase was chronicled with the added advice of, "Look out, girls!" With red running gears, rubber tires, a fassel on the horse's bridle, and a whip that cost at least $1.25, this young man was so well equipped that he was a force to reckon with when love-making was going on.

He has passed, and in his stead has come the long, low, rakish motorcar. It burns gasoline and leaves an unpleasant odor in its wake, but it represents speed and exclusiveness. It is the chummy roadster. Too soon, it seems, it also will pass away. In a New York newspaper is the advertisement of an aircraft concern. "What about the boy who overgrows has been roaming the sky, day after day, flying free in the glorious ether?" It wants to know. When he comes home, the advertisement says, he will not be satisfied with a motorboat or an automobile. "So why not meet the inevitable?" It asks, "and buy him an airplane now?" Now that the stress of war-time production is over, this particular concern is offering flying boats, seaplanes and chummy flyabouts for commercial or pleasure purposes. "An appropriate gift for your son or daughter," is the concluding sentence.

PIGS AS MACHINE GUNNERS

Shrewd Trick Played by Germans When They Fled Before the Conquering American Troops.

The crafty Germans resorted to all sorts of tricks to check the advance of the Yankees in the fighting just before the armistice was signed, according to a letter from Sgt. Sidney S. Foy, formerly of Detroit, Mich., now attached to a headquarters company in a classification camp in France, to a friend in the Michigan city.

Foy writes that pigs were numerous during the advance and that the Germans used them to help in putting Yankees out of action. When the Huns were forced to retreat they would tie a pig by the leg to the trigger of a machine gun. When the Yanks would charge, the pig, becoming frightened, would squeal and tug to free itself. Every tug the pig made a shot was fired at the waves of oncoming American troops, and, of course, some of them were hit.

This was only one of the ruses adopted by the Germans, says Foy, and the Yankees had to use the utmost caution in going over the ground evacuated by the Germans.

Packers' By-Products.

The by-products obtained in the packing house industry may be divided into two classes—the edible and the inedible. The inedible constitute the external covering (hair, horns, hoofs and hides), some of the offal and the bones. From these are prepared a great variety of substances, some of which have developed into enormous industries in themselves, such as leather, soap, glue and fertilizer. The last mentioned represents the ultimate utilization of packing house waste. For example, in the manufacture of buttons, combs, knife handles and spatulas from the horns and hoofs of cattle and sheep and the hoofs of hogs the waste resulting from the preparation of these articles was at one time thrown away, but it has been found that by treating such material with sulphuric acid, the nitrogen which it contains becomes available as a fertilizer.

Tanks May Tow Barges.

When the swords are beaten into plowshares, what is to happen to the tanks? Many people must have asked themselves this question, and C. J. Aubertain's recent article in the London News suggests an answer, for, with slight modifications, the "whippersnappers," at any rate, might well be used as tractors on the towpaths of our reconstructed state canals. The French government, I am told, observes a writer in the Edinburgh Scotsman, has made experiments already in this very direction and has found that a light tank is capable of hauling four fully laden barges at a speed of two miles an hour, which is about twice that of a horse. Mechanical traction has been employed on some of the German canals for some considerable time.

Immunity in a Mule.

An Alabama doughboy had trouble galore with a mule.

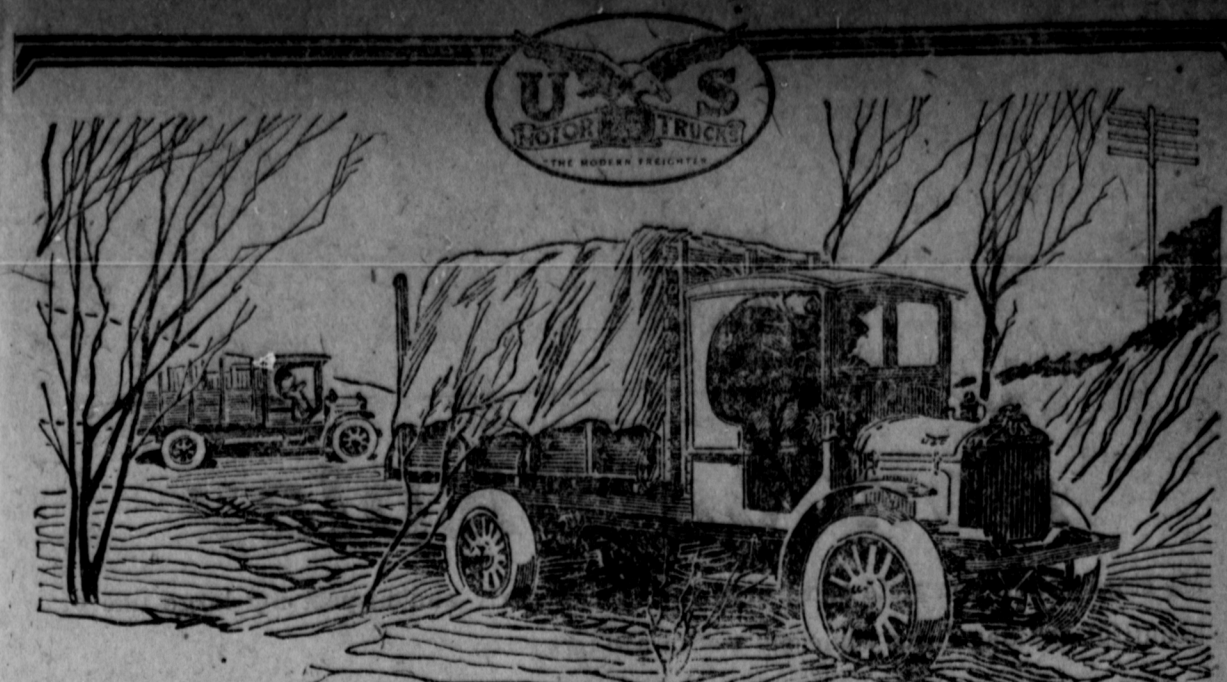

"Ah just couldn't take any interest in dat mule. The others were all right. Dis one first crack outa de box, done bit mah finger. Den, while Ah'm 'saminin' mah finger he ups an' kicks me in de pants. Den dose bush Germans started a gas attack.

"Ah was s'posed to put gas masks on dem mules an' den on me. Ah put masks on two of dem.

"Den I led dis ornery one around in dat gas fash two hours, an' dog mah cats, nothin' ever happened to dat mule a tall!"

Campaign Against Coyotes.

Coyote hunts are popular in the vicinity of Edmonton, Alberta, the last hunt attracting many automobilists as well as horsemen. Ranchers are planning to continue the campaign of extermination. Twenty-five wolf hounds have been obtained for these drives. The plan is to form a half circle and close in on the coyotes at a river bank.

Red Blood Makes Best Complexions

Wholesome Complexion the Pride and Glory of Healthy Men and Women

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Cheeks

Builds Up Tired Bodies—Helps to Change Complexions to Bloom of Health

The healthy, attractive woman—and man too—with a wholesome complexion is the envy of those who feel that, for them, such attractiveness is impossible.

And yet health and attractiveness are much a matter of good, red blood and unless a man or woman is afflicted with some deep-seated or serious ailment, vigorous health and personal charm are within easy reach.

Pepto-Mangan is responsible for the present health and happiness of thousands who formerly were thin, pale, languid and easily exhausted. Pepto-Mangan helped place these folks in the full-blooded, energetic, vigorous class—and it probably can do the same for you.

Pepto-Mangan contains the elements that make rich, healthy blood. And as a result of the increased supply of red blood that Pepto-Mangan creates, the entire system attains the vigor that belongs to every man and woman.

Pepto-Mangan is prepared in two forms, liquid and tablets. They are exactly alike in medical value.

Ask your druggist for "Gude's" when ordering Pepto-Mangan. Look for the name, "Gude's" on the package.

LIBERTY BONDS FOR A HOME

Down in Fulton, Ky, there is a real estate concern that has the psychology of the thing. In advertisements that persist in the Fulton Daily Leader this real estate man offers to take Liberty Bonds at their face value for certain real estate that he is seeking to dispose of. Good business! But he is not a philanthropist. Those Liberty Bonds will be worth above par in a short time, whether the reality in question ever increases a penny in value. And yet Liberty Bonds, when used to purchase a home, are being put to no ignoble use.

Republican enemies of the treaty in the United States Senate will learn during the next campaign that by prolonging the war they have confronted their party's candidates with a battle for life.

DO YOUR SHOPPING EARLY

According to advices received through the Associated Press the government fuel control has directed that certain business establishments remain open from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. only.

This step is taken to conserve the available supply of coal until the miners' strike is ended.

It is understood it will affect all of the stores in Mt. Sterling and other cities in this territory that handle food, clothing, etc., although no official notice has been received to that effect.

Every merchant will, of course, obey the order and not question either its wisdom or its legality, because winter is on and fuel for warmth and for cooking must be had, at all costs.

The merchants can be protected against serious loss and their customers can be served without much inconvenience if shoppers will begin their rounds in the early morning hours and not all wait until the afternoon to make their purchases.

As one of the local merchants has already said, most of the business at the average store is transacted between 9 in the morning and 4 in the afternoon, and by the exercise of a reasonable degree of co-operation between merchant and customer there need be no material reduction in the volume of trade.

Out-of-town shoppers will come earlier and leave for home in their own vehicles sooner than they are accustomed to doing.

There is nothing in the government's order to excite or worry. Let us all pitch in and accept the situation cheerfully, pull together and there will be a Merry Christmas for most everybody.

THE PERSONAL SERVICES OF MR. GEORGE N. CONNELL FOR CONSULTATION PURPOSES IN MATTERS PERTAINING TO HOME DECORATING AND FURNISHING CAN BE ARRANGED BY APPOINTMENT

COUNTRY CONTINUES VERY PROSPEROUS

"Despite the discouragements which have presented themselves in international matters," says the Henry Claws review for the past week, "and notwithstanding the delays in the adjustment of domestic industrial conditions, prosperity continues at full tide throughout the country."

The United States is the chief if not the only source to which foreign countries must turn for assistance in the reconstruction process, a fact fully attested by authoritative utterances, both of English and American financiers during the recent past. Continued activity of business and the keeping up of production to the highest point with the resultant effects upon wages and prices would seem to be the order of the day for some time to come.

Recent business and industrial developments have been largely of a negative description. It would seem likely that should negotiations between the miners and the coal operators prove ineffectual some form of government intervention might be necessary in order to relieve the coal shortage which is so seriously interfering with productions in the Middle Western plants and elsewhere.

Pending the definite decision as to a policy on this matter the uncertainty produces but little influence on market conditions because of the fact that most of the elements in the problem have been thoroughly discounted in advance. Important in its effect upon railroads and their prospects has been the renewed wage advance policy of the administration.

The fact that such great advances could be announced with little more than sixty days of the time the roads are to return to their owners has been taken by some as an unfavorable indication, because of the belief that the action would correspondingly impair the income producing power of the roads.

The more far-sighted view, however, regards this step as another pledge on the part of the government to protect the financial conditions of the lines since on no other basis could it be supposed to be warranted in doing what it has thus undertaken only about a month before the roads pass out of its hands.

Undoubtedly the month of December will be of first-class importance in many ways affecting the market since it should see some definite adjustment of the coal situation as well as at least a tentative settlement of the financial problems of the roads. Confidently expecting such an outcome, business throughout the country has continued unexpectedly active.

Market developments have been, for the most part, discouraging, with irregularity and lower prices for many of the leading industrial and railroad issues.

Bonds also showed a lower tendency owing partly to the advancing tendency of interest rates. Some investment buying in the more attractive issues has been an interesting feature of the week's history.

Shrewd buyers are looking with particular interest to the railway shares as a probable feature of the market during the coming weeks. The return of the railroads to their owners will bring about, it is likely, a considerable rearrangement of the values; stronger lines after the discontinuance of government control tending to reach a higher level, while the weaker roads may shrink still further. Government protection of railroad incomes is not likely to be of such a nature as to stabilize the returns of the strong and weak lines alike.

Despite the fact that immediate prospects are necessarily more or less uncertain, the readjustments in prices has rendered not a few solid issues attractive to buyers and investment purchasing has been considerably in evidence of late.—Lexington Leader.

RED CROSS SEALS

Have you done any of your Christmas shopping?

Don't send out any of your Christmas packages without first pasting upon them Red Cross Christmas Seals.

The Christmas Seal campaign began in Kentucky on December 1. It is to be waged under the leadership of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association. Its purpose is to raise funds to fight the deadly tuberculosis.

Every penny you give for a Christmas Seal means a penny more thrown in the balance against the ravages of the disease.

Thousands of little children and thousands of grown persons now are suffering from tuberculosis. Despite the fight that is being waged against it, the disease is spreading rapidly.

The Tuberculosis Association hopes that no Christmas package will be sent out of Northern Kentucky without it bears at least one seal.

Only the co-operation of every citizen is going to result in success for the association's campaign, its head point out.

A Christmas package bearing a Red Cross Seal carries a double message—a message of good cheer and a plea for aid for those who are afflicted with or exposed to tuberculosis.

Make your Christmas doubly happy by doing two good deeds in one.

Fire Works—Let the children celebrate. Fire Crackers, Torpedoes, Sparklers and Roman Candles. THE FAIR.

AN EMPTY RECORD

The Republican Congress has adjourning the special session, called by the President six months ago for specific after-the-war constructive purposes.

When the Republicans came into power in Congress last spring they flamboyantly announced they were going to give a striking demonstration of that wonderful G. O. P. efficiency, that marvelous gift of constructive statesmanship, that firm grasp of national problems, etc., of which we hear so much and see so little. All the knotty questions of reconstruction were to be taken up and solved and Democratic incompetency was to be shown up in its true light in contrast with all-around Republican superiority.

Six months have now passed since the extra session convened in May, and the record has been made up. It is absolutely barren of results. We would be modest in making such an assertion as a matter of our own belief, as we might be accused of partisan bias, but happily we have Republican authority for the statement.
We refer to a Washington dispatch in the Philadelphia Press, whose G. O. P. orthodoxy cannot be questioned.

From its long catalogue of the failures of the Republicans to make good their pledges we extract a few items to show how complete this fiasco of the much vaunted Republican constructive statesmanship has been:

"The special session of the Sixtysixth Congress, called chiefly to pass department appropriation bills defeated by filibuster in the closing days of the Sixty-fifth, is about to close with nothing of a constructive nature accomplished, with none of the after-war problems definitely considered.

"Nothing in the way of legislation to deal with the great problems of labor and Bolshevism has been enacted.

"The most important matters of public concern have not been finally disposed of in this session. While the House will have passed a railroad bill that is regarded by many as ildigested, requiring actual framing in conference, the Senate has not yet considered this piece of legislation.
Nothing has been done on railroad legislation, and the country faces the return of the railroads at the end of this year with no legislation for their regulation or financing after the President releases them.

"Another after-the-war problem, in upbuilding of the merchant marine, is left for consideration in the coming session, which necessarily will be short because of the national conventions and the subsequent elections. The military and naval policies have not been decided upon, and the army and navy are losing some of their best officers by reason of the failure to provide for the higher pay and reorganization of the services.

"With increasing disorders due to undesirable aliens only recently manifested in the West and present in all industrial sections of the country, nothing definite has been done to stamp out anarchy or Bolshevism.

"Nothing definite has been done to prevent the high cost of living, and the promised land settlement bill for soldiers has not even been reported from the committee which long considered it."

There is much more of the same sort. It is a long and ghastly record of promises made only to be broken, of time frittered away and of opportunities neglected. While the Sen-aching and extend up into my left shoulder and on down into my back.

By that time the pain would be so severe I would have to take to bed,

...I suffered this way for three years, and got to be a mere skeleton and was so weak I could hardly stand alone.
Was not able to go anywhere and had to let my house work go...I suffered awful with a pain in my back and I had the headache all the time. I just was unable to do a thing. My life was a misery, my stomach got in an awful condition, caused from taking so much medicine. I suffered so much pain. I had just about given up all hopes of our getting anything to help

One day a Birthday Almanac was Indications throughout Missouri, Arkansas and Kentucky are that savings plans inaugurated by the United States Treasury Department, under the direction of the Savings Division, will in the year 1920 accomplish more than in the two years previous.

Especially is this true of the schools which will under the revised plans be given special attention. The government realizes that the school pupil of today will be the business man and man of affairs tomorrow, and the early training will be reflected throughout his entire life.

The campaign for the sale of Treasury Savings Certificates and the retention of all United States securities will be urged throughout the 1920 campaign.

On the eve of adjourning the special session of Congress there was much haste in the House of Representatives to pass bills which had been before that branch for five or six months, though there was no prospect, even if there had been the wish, to have them adopted by the Senate. It was a trick to give the people the impression that the Republican legislators are busy with the public needs.

Miss Bernice Walker and Virgil Barnes, prominent young people of this county, were quietly married at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, on Wednesday night. The bride, who is an unusually handsome girl, was becomingly attired in a tailored suit of dark blue, with hat and accessories to correspond. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of white roses and violets. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a several days' stay in Cincinnati, returning here yesterday to make their home on Mr. Barnes' farm near Howard's Mill.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Walker. She is a refined and cultured young woman, and is regarded as one of this county's best educators, having taught in the county schools here for a number of years. Mr. Barnes is a prosperous farmer and successful young business man.

VICTORY WEEK FOR $75,000,000 BAPTIST CAMPAIGN

The Mt. Sterling church has made a good start and expects to make a final report after prayer service on Wednesday evening. This church raised on Sunday the sum of $13,000 at the morning worship hour. Reports received from the churches are very encouraging. Of the $75,000,000 to be raised Kentucky had agreed to raise $6,500,000, and the reports as secured show this quota will be raised to $8,000,000, and instead of raising $75,000,000, Southern Baptists will go over the top and raise more than $100,000,000. Dr. Ben L. Bruner, organizer for the Long Run Association, gives out this encouraging report, which will make glad the religious world.

At the Christian church in this city on Friday evening, December 5th at 8:15 o'clock Mr. Carlos Buhler, pianist, and Professor Carl Lampert, violinist, will be presented in a musical program under the auspices of the music department of the Woman's History Club.

Lovers of piano music are looking forward with delight to the performance of Mr. Buhler, who is a well known and highly accomplished pianist.

Professor Lampert, who is head of the department of music at the University of Kentucky, is a musician of considerable note, having been leader of the celebrated Schuman Quintette of Chicago for a number of years.

These talented musicians were secured and plans for the program made by Mrs. Emily Hibler Reid, our gifted pianist, who is leader for this meeting. The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick and Mrs. D. C. Fox, chairman and vice chairman of the music department of the club, and promises to be an unusual treat for music lovers of Mt. Sterling. The public is cordially invited to be present.

Judge Alfred N. Crooks Buys Interest of M. C. Clay in Whitehall and Becomes Manager

Matt C. Clay Saturday sold his interest in the Whitehall loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company to Judge Alfred N. Crooks, of Bath county, who will at once assume the management of this concern, assisted by J. Will Clay. Judge Crooks needs no introduction to our people, who have known him all his life. He is a thorough business man, and a splendid judge of tobacco, and will prove a big drawing card for this popular house. It is understood he will move to this city to reside, and if such be true, we are indeed glad to welcome such a splendid gentleman to our city. The Whitehall, under his management, will be extremely popular with the Bath county growers, and the Judge will command quite a nice Bath county patronage.

AUDRIAN HELPS SELF

Audrian county, Mo., leads the state in the number of War Savings societies organized this fall without the aid of field organizers from the central organization.

Under the direction of County Director W. R. Jackson, of Mexico, there have been 25 societies organized so far this season, with a total membership of 632 members. This record is deemed by Federal Director Wilson to be one of which the citizens of Audrian county may well be proud.

"This demonstrates the earnestness of the people of Audrian county in the thrift campaign that was inaugurated by the Treasury Department," said Mr. Wilson. "Mr. Jackson has done exceedingly well with his stewardship, but the county could not have made the splendid record had not the people been receptive and have realized the benefits that would accrue to the community and to themselves now and in the future by the encouragement and thrift and systematic saving and investment."

The Audrian schools are well organized for the 1920 campaign, and when another year rolls around the county will be 100 per cent organized in the schools.

SAYS NOTHING CAN PREVENT SUCCESS OF BAPTIST DRIVE

"Rain, mud, sleet nor snow will be able to prevent Southern Baptists from going over the top in the $75,000,000 campaign, the drive for cash and five-year subscriptions in which began Sunday and will continue through Sunday, December 7," Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director, said in outlining the general situation. The campaign preliminary to the drive closed Saturday.

"The rains," continued Dr. Scarborough, "and bad roads affecting more than 15,000 churches, poor crops in many sections, shortness of time for organization, disturbances in the industrial world and the unsettled condition of world peace, all these have been militant factors in hindering such a campaign. Yet in spite of these difficulties we have organized more than 20,000 churches and every state, every association and nearly every church has accepted its apportionment of the big fund. Every church that has taken its subscription in advance has gone from 25 to 500 per cent. over its quota. "We have received several million dollars in gifts already, in advance of the regular drive, three gifts ranging all the way from $10,000 to $100,000. A spirit like that which characterized the American forces at Chateau-Thierry, Belleau Wood and Argonne Forest stirs the hearts of 3,000,000 Southern Baptists in the campaign today. The co-operation from every section has been full and glorious. The slackers and knockers have been few."

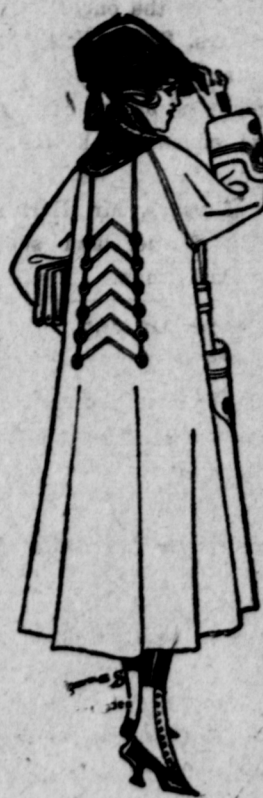

"As general director I call upon the Southern Baptist heroes and their friends to go into this Victory week to win against all odds and over all difficulties. Moses did not let the Red Sea, nor the barren desert, nor did Joshua let the swollen Jordan prevent him from carrying Israel into the Promised Land. Christ did not let Gethsemane, nor Calvary, nor Joseph's Tomb prevent him from

J. W. WADE & SON
306 MAIN STREET (20-1f) JAMESTOWN, N. Y.

The Kris Kringle Chariot

By EDITH RANSOM AVERILL

(Copyright.)

ROSY-cheeked school-boy on his new red sled sped down the long snow-clad hill. A dozen gayly chattering girls tripped towards the lightly frozen pond with their skates. A farmer came into view with a wagon load of newly cut Christmas trees. Yuletide cheer was effervescing, but there was no responsive echo of its fervor in the hearts of John Lane and Martin Freer.

"I'm in accord with you completely," the latter was saying. "My son, Sidney, has the chance of his life to enter a law career in the city. Since he fell in love with your half niece and ward, Edna, he seems to have lost all ambition of making his way outside of winning her."

"A foolish fancy," declared John Lane. "Edna is too young to think of marrying."

"We are going to send Edna away to a private boarding school after the holidays," he continued, "and that will probably end the affair."

Meantime Edna Merrill pined in her prisonlike solitude and Sidney sought to devise a way to get word to her.

At their last meeting he had said, "no matter what comes, they shall not part us."

"They are going to send both of us away, widely apart," mourned Edna. "Oh, don't let them do it!" and Sidney replied,

"Have you the faith to believe in me, to act with me without question if I find a way to defeat two old men, who have forgotten what love means?"

"I have given you my heart solely and trustingly," answered Edna staunchly.

"Then you shall hear from me when I have matured all my plans," promised Sidney.

There was a certain solace for Sidney in climbing the high garden wall at the rear of the Lane grounds and gazing up at the window of the room that held his heart's treasure. He had a note written detailing his plans and hopes, and he had almost despaired of delivering it, when, the afternoon before Christmas, he observed that the window was open.

Sidney added a few lines to the note, gathered up a handful of snow, enclosed the note in the white sphere, aimed, let fly and it passed through the open window.

The note had suggested the elopement he and Edna had previously discussed. He had added a line, "I will be in the lane at eight o'clock. Don't fail me."

There was a light in that upper window, now closed, when Sidney returned, and the lamp was set in a peculiar way. Across the frosted inside of a pane two words had been scratched, reading: "At eight."

A few minutes later the light was extinguished and a speeding figure crossed the garden, unlocked a rear door in the wall and the lovers were waited.

"Quick," spoke Sidney. "It is a question of getting to a friend of mine, a clergyman at Amherst."

He clasped Edna's arm and they hurried down the lane.

The lane the fugitives were now in was deep with snow. As they neared a large barn within which showed a light Sidney drew Edna through its open door.

"We must hide for a spell," he said, and, as quite breathless, they entered the great rambling structure, they stared in amazement at a scene strange and striking.

In its center was what looked like an old circus chariot. There was gilt and holly and evergreen trimming in profusion. Four horses were attached and upon a sort of throne in the center was seated a gorgeously attired Santa Claus.

"We'll better start," spoke one of the men. "If we want to get to Amherst before everybody is abed," and catching sight of a sign on the chariot Sidney was made aware of the fact that to advertise a new soap this modern publicity van was touring the district, giving away samples as holiday presents.

"Step into that low space at the back," he whispered to Edna. "We shall be safe there."

When the unique Santa Claus vehicle arrived at the edge of Amherst, the fluttering lovers left it unnoticed. There was a hurried walk to the home of a clergyman.

The same telegram was sent by the happy bride and bridegroom to John Lane and Martin Freer. It read:

"Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Freer wish their loving friends a Merry, Merry Christmas."

The merchants who usually "yell" the loudest about outside advertising is the one who "donates" an ad two weeks in each month, or maybe he doesn't advertise at all. The Flag is for the home merchant, but if he does not use it he only gives the outside man a chance to take more space. We cannot help it and must accept all legitimate advertising—if we have the room.

It pleases us to sell space to the merchant who realizes that advertising is a business necessity, but we will not, if we can help it, take the money of the man who simply gives us an order for space who does it to keep the wolf from our door. Remember this—according to Bradstreet, 85 per cent. of the failures in 1918 were non-advertisers—Flag, Deshler, Ohio.

SCENERY FOR AMERICANS

In all the world there is no scenery to surpass that of our own U. S. A.

But we have been backward in telling the world or even ourselves, about it. Rather have we helped other nations who have scenery to sell, and who also know its monetary value.

The art and craft of selling scenery has been developed into almost a science by our neighbors overseas.

Before the war made it impossible for us to flock to Europe on pleasure bent, millions of American dollars (they were worth more then, too), went over there annually to enrich purveyors of scenery, art souvenirs, alleged antiques, and anything else that could beguile the unthinking dollar from its owner.

Now, among other things that we are discovering in the re-adjustment of world affairs is that we have scenery of our own, in greater variety and abundance, than anywhere else in the world. Nowhere are there scenic thrills, adventures, sports, or even healing calm, to excel those of our own country.

And all to be had at the maximum of travel comfort and convenience, and at much less expense than going to war-torn, devastated Europe.

The war exigencies compelled Mr. and Mrs. American to curtail their travel; but it also gave them the opportunity to get acquainted with their surroundings.

This year—travel restrictions being removed—for the parks tourist travel season just closed 810,634 persons visited the national parks and monuments. Of this number 95,140 automobiles carried the tourists to and through the "playgrounds of the people." They could make their own schedules, hurry or loiter at their pleasure, visit beauty spots off the beaten track, and see the great wonders of their country in their own way.

In some parks where time, labor and appropriations have made the roads especially alluring, more than half the travel was by automobile—many tourists carried complete camping outfits.

EPISCOPAL CAMPAIGN

An experiment to see whether religion, when religion is taken seriously, is capable of exercising a constructive and stabilizing influence, upon the chaotic conditions of the war-torn world, is the characterization of the Nation-wide Campaign of the Episcopal church as given by the Right Rev. Charles Palmerston Anderson, D.D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago. The campaign starts December 7, this city, and parishes are vitally interested in the work.

Bishop Anderson was head of the commission of American clergymen sent to Europe to sound sentiment and arouse interest there in a world conference of Christian churches.

He is one of the outstanding advocates and orators of the Nation-wide Campaign. When the commission on that campaign was chosen Bishop Anderson was the first prelate selected, the choice being dictated by his natural fitness for the place and his warm sympathy and enthusiasm for the cause. Born and ordained to the priesthood in Canada, he became a rector of Grace church, Oak Park, a suburb of Chicago in 1891. In 1904 he was elected Bishop roadjutor of Chicago and in the following year succeeded to the Episcopate.

"The Nation-wide Campaign is no longer a plan under consideration," says Bishop Anderson. "It is a program in operation. The machinery has been set in motion and nothing can stop it."

"It is primarily a campaign of education. Its purpose is to inform the mind, to quicken the conscience, to deepen men's spiritual convictions, and to awaken the church from its unconscious slumber to meet the perils of the new day. The movement is so wisely planned that it cannot fail to unify the church, to increase the efficiency of its working organization, and to inaugurate a new era of spiritual power. It makes no ap-

THE GREAT

Lexington Tobacco Market

OPENED TODAY

AND ALL EYES ARE CENTERED ON LEXINGTON AND REPRESENTATIVES OF EVERY FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC MANUFACTURING CONCERN WILL GATHER HERE TO BID ON THE FAMOUS PRODUCT OF THIS LIMESTONE REGION.

Lexington is the leading Burley Tobacco market of the world. Why? It is the very hub of Kentucky's Burley growing district. Fine roads stretch in every direction to the surrounding counties and its railroad and shipping facilities are as good as those of any city of its size in the country. There are seventeen large modern warehouses with floor space and facilities to take care of five millions of pounds of tobacco at one time. Twelve re-drying machines are running day and night to put in sweet keeping order 1,000,000 pounds per day. There are modern storage facilities here for more than 100,000,000 of pounds and the buyers and manufacturers provide eight immense receiving plants to take care of the purchases of three separate sets of buyers going continuously.

But most important of all, here gather each winter buyers and brokers for every concern in this country and abroad, who seek Burley Tobacco for manufacturing purposes. Last winter Lexington boasted of fifty-five buyers on her market at one time.

For the season of 1918,1919, the Lexington market sold for the Blue Grass, Bear Grass, the Pennyrile and the mountains, 55,826,300 pounds for $21,433,210.30, or an average of $38.20.

The Fayette Tobacco Warehouse Company is one of the pioneer organizations of this market. It was formed for the sole purpose of providing as clean, straightforward and as efficient a place for the sale of Burley Tobacco as money and experience could devise. It does not speculate on tobacco, but it has formed the habit of getting outside prices for its customers.

Did you know that the Fayette has had the distinction of leading this market and all Kentucky markets three out of the last four years? Did you know that last season the Fayette by official records, led the Lexington market and every other market in the Burley Belt with the sensational average of $42.10 for the 8,625,255 pounds sold over its floors?

The world is demanding more Burley all the time; production is not keeping pace with consumption, so that our chief industry commands a strong position. All other indications, such as the very high markets in the Carolinas and Virginia, point to a very high market here, and we believe we shall have it from the fall of the flag.

PUBLIC AUCTION

Monday, December 15th

(COUNTY COURT DAY)

As agent for Lester W. Lee I will sell on the above date and at the Court House door, Mt. Sterling, Ky. (if not sold privately before), his excellent farm, lying on the Paris pike, one-half mile from Sideview, Montgomery county, at the hour of 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and containing

108 Acres of Rich, Fertile, Limestone Land

This farm is known as the Dave Gaitskill place, and the improvements consist of a good substantial frame cottage of 5 rooms, pantry and two porches, and all necessary outbuildings, all of which are in excellent condition, with good roofs. There is a good cistern, good orchard of young and old trees, bearing; excellent garage, where you can drive your car from the pike. The residence sets in beautiful yard amidst shade trees, and is situated in a healthy location. There is also a tobacco barn, built only few years; tool and sheep shed; stock barn, all in good condition. The farm is well watered by pond, 4 or 5 springs, with everlasting water; one concrete watering trough fed by spring, which will furnish water for all stock that can be kept on the place. The fencing is mostly all wire and both inside and outside is good.

15 acres of this farm is sown to wheat and blue grass, with fine stand, and the balance is in blue grass sod. The land is walnut and wild cherry and is in high state for cultivation of tobacco or any other crop. We are frank to say that the entire farm will grow as fine tobacco as any farm in the Blue Grass section, and produces at all times a heavy yield as well as a highly colored crop of tobacco. One only has to go and look at the tobacco now in the barn on the place to be convinced that the statement is true.

We do not believe that we have ever offered under the hammer as good a farm, quality of soil and location considered, as this one, where practically every acre can be cultivated, and when we call this farm a REAL TOBACCO FARM we know what we are talking about. There is NONE BETTER.

The neighborhood is as good as can be found anywhere, with school close, and only seven miles from Mt. Sterling.

If you want to buy a good farm, in first-class condition, just ready for the plow, the sale of this land offers you the opportunity. Come in and let me show you this farm or drive down and look it over. IT IS A GOOD ONE AND WE WILL TAKE PLEASURE IN SHOWING YOU THE PROPERTY.

TERMS WILL BE ANNOUNCED ON DAY OF SALE.

Remember the time, hour and place, 1 o'clock, P. M., at the Court House door, Mt. Sterling, Ky., Monday, December 15, 1919.

ORDINANCE

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Board of Council of the City of Mt. Sterling, Ky., that upon each tax receipt for the year 1919 remaining unpaid in the hands of the City Treasurer, December 1, 1919, there shall be attached and added a penalty of 10 per cent. thereof, and also 6 per cent. interest from December 1, 1919, until paid, and the City Treasurer is directed to collect said unpaid tax receipts, together with the said penalty and interest thereon, as required by law.

This ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage and publication, as required by law.

W. R. McKEE, Mayor.

Attest:
H. B. RINGO, City Clerk.

TIP TO MERCHANTS

When Mr. J. B. Sax, a clothier in Ottumwa, Iowa, advertises he always runs a little line of small type at the very top of his ad where he defines some store policy or service. One of the most popular is one which states that no customer in his clothing store will ever be urged to buy anything.

"You will never be urged to buy anything you do not want in this store; our clerks have positive instructions on this point," the ad reads. Mr. Sax said this idea which he had carried out several years had been the means of bringing many customers back to his store, and keeping them as steady patrons.

There would not be so many bad spellers in this country if men were not so ashamed to be seen looking up words in a dictionary.

Any boob can be thankful for what he has, but it takes an optimist to be thankful for what he hasn't.

THE COAL SITUATION

It is most unfortunate that the conference at Washington on the part of the government, coal operators and the coal miners could not reach an agreement. We are not prepared to say that the proposal of 14 per cent. increase is adequate. Nor are we prepared to say that the proposal of the miners for a 91 per cent. increase should have been accepted. We believe, however, that Dr. Garfield has adopted a sound principle in contending that coal can be mined at present retail prices with adequate compensation both to the operator and the miner. Obviously we cannot stabilize our industries, nor check the ascending cost of living, if there is to be a marked advance in the price of so basic a necessity as fuel.

It is absolutely necessary that the mines be operated. It is much better that they be operated by private capital, but if private capital owning the mines cannot come to terms within bounds that would prevent an advance in the price to the consumer, there appears to be no other alternative than the operation of the mines by the government itself. The coal must be produced. If private enterprise fails in this supreme obligation to society, it becomes necessary for the government to step in and perform this essential function. If the government can operate the mines with the 14 per cent increase in wages, without advancing the price of coal to the consumer, and at the same time make reasonable compensation to the mine owners, it should be practicable for the owner himself to operate on this basis. If Mr. Garfield can demonstrate the practicability of his plan, through the operation of a few mines, there would appear to be a reasonable prospect for a general resumption on this basis.

It is most unfortunate that there should be a development calling for a further extension of the activities of the federal government, but between the evil of government operation and the evil of no coal, there cannot be the slightest hesitation as to the choice. Public opinion will support whatever movement promises definite results in the way of coal production.

INAUGURATION PLANS ARE COMPLETED

A military band from Cincinnati; the boys' band of Maysville, a regimental band of 40 pieces from the East Division, the Cadet Band of the University of Kentucky, at least one band from Louisville, and bands from Hopkinsville, Shelbyville and Frankfort, are assured for the inaugural parade December 9, and it is expected that a dozen more delegations will bring their bands with them.

Shelby Republicans announce that they will have a thousand in line and expect to excel all other delegations numerically.

With the military showing probably bigger than ever before, the committee is turning its attention to political marching clubs and are urging local organizations over the state to communicate with Major Jackson Morris, grand marshal, so the line can be arranged in advance.

The parade will start at 11 o'clock from Ann street and Broadway, proceeding south on Ann street to Main street, west on Main to Washington, south on Washington to Wapping, east on Wapping to St. Clair, over the bridge and via Second and Cap-

WORK IS A BLESSING, NOT A CURSE

"He also that is slothful in his work is brother to him that is a great waster."—Proverbs 18:9.

"For the people had a mind to work."—Nehemiah 4:6.

In the Book of Books—of which it has been well said that it is not only a library in itself, but that it is greater than all other libraries, a book which it took the Almighty 1600 years, speaking through forty men, to write—is to be found wisdom, human and divine, and the two extracts which we have quoted might furnish a text for many a sermon just now. The first states the great truth that the man who "is slothful in his work is a brother to him that is a great waster." Both classes are condemned by the Almighty Himself, and they should be condemned by every man who recognizes that work is the divine instrumentality for the development of body and mind of the individual and for the saving of the world.

The second quotation relates to a time when the people of Israel "had a mind to work." In the hour of emergency, when their country was at stake, they concentrated their activities night and day upon work. No time was to be lost in the great effort which they were then making to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem. Through their heroic work when all the people joined together and all "the people had a mind to work," success was achieved.

The people of America must have "a mind to work." Into their work they must throw the whole energy of their nature. The "slothful" man and the "waster" must be regarded as slackers unworthy of the respect of anyone.

Any organization which seeks to limit the labor of its members, any individual who is slothful in business, who wastes his own time or that of his employer, and the one who is a waster of the substance of others, or of the country, will, unless they change their methods, never be classed by God or man as "people who had a mind to work." They are not workers; they are shirkers, slackers, and their number grows alarmingly great.

Men are being taught that work is something to be shunned, when they should be taught that it is God's appointed way for all mankind's advancement.

God Himself works, and throughout all of the divine teachings of the Bible there is one unceasing strain in favor of work. The "slothful man," and the man who has not "a mind to work," are going directly contrary to the teachings of the Almighty.

This nation needs to be taught the dignity of work. We need to glorify work—work on the farm and work in the mine and work in the factory, work in the office, work in the schoolroom, work in the pulpit. Men who have decried work, or who have sought to limit the output of laborers not merely by unduly reducing the hours of labor, but by reducing the amount of work that a man may do in a given time, are flying directly in the face of the teachings of the Bible.

Work is a blessing, not a curse.

ADS OF FARMERS

The department of journalism at South Dakota College wrote nearly one hundred farmers asking their experience with advertising.

One replied that advertising of seed grain had been so successful that next year a new granary was built, a new truck bought and equipment for cleaning and handling grain added.

Another replied that his success in selling little pigs had been so great through local papers that he had been unable to meet the demand.

A third replied that a small ad in the county seat paper sold all his settings of eggs.—Free Press, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

PASTOR RIGGS IS SORE

Pastor Riggs is sore at us now—he says he lost $150 through an ad in this paper. You see he advertised that he had six pigs for sale and it wasn't long before he sold them out and got enough inquiries afterward that he could have sold $150 worth more if he had them. He says the little want ads not only bring home the bacon, but they can get rid of the whole hog in short order. It's an other proposition that works both ways, besides benefitting us—the middleman.—Courier, Minden, Neb.
